There are some new URLs for this project.

Because we have moved away from all things SLACK ("Bob" help us all), I have decided to let the freeslack.space domain name die. However, the standalone download site and repository lives on, just with a few changes to the URLs. Both work with or without SSL, your choice.

<https://freenix.3space.xyz/>

<https://freenix.3space.xyz/mirror/ftp/freeslack64-14.2/>

For now, <http://freeslack.space> redirects to the first link above.

However, <http://mirror.freeslack.space/> is still live, for the time being. It will die in flames in about 30 days. You can stay connected to the repository by switching to the second link above.

If you do not fancy subdomains, these also work:

<https://3space.xyz/freenix/>

<https://3space.xyz/freenix/mirror/ftp/freeslack64-14.2/>

Oh, and on a side note, while this one still works....

<https://beauxbead.com/freeslackmirror/ftp/freeslack64-14.2/>

it is only still working because of symbolic links on the server. I suggest moving away from that one if you can, and replacing it on the main site with the second link in this post. Oh, right, it is a wiki... maybe I can do that myself. I think I created an account, possibly....

Anyway, I just wanted to put the new links here and announce the imminent death of the old domain name.

Mission accomplished.
