The long post was my first post on the forum, and it went into moderation, which I wasn't expecting. Also, web links are not allowed on one's first post, hence the funny nature of that long winded post. The second post is just me testing the system, to see if I could get a second one through without weblinks. I guess that one went into moderation as well.

Here are the links, sorry for the confusion:

- [4] I've since cleaned up the code, and it should be valid now, although it could use a few alt-texts on the images, it seems.
- [5] Now I get 2 errors and 192 warnings.
